GUIDANCE NOTES

1. The Act requires submission of proof that the fund is a private fund within the meaning of the Act. The fund's constitutional documents must contain a specific provision that states that it will have no more than 99 investors or that invitations to purchase shares in the fund must be made on a "private basis." This could be evidenced by a prohibition placed on the making of invitations to purchase shares other than to specified persons (however described) and in a manner which is not calculated to lead to shares becoming available to other persons or to a large number of persons; or a restriction to invitations which are made only by reason of a private business connection between the respective parties. In all cases, an indication of the number of invitations that will be made to purchase shares must be provided.

2. The shares of a professional fund must be made available only to "professional investors" defined in the Act as either persons whose ordinary business involves dealing in investments of the same kind as those of the fund or persons who have signed an appropriate declaration. A majority of the investors in a professional fund must each initially invest at least US$100,000. A copy of the fund(s) offering document, or extracts thereof, which stipulate minimum initial investment and subscription conditions must be provided.
